Editor A. M. Child of the Chariton Recorder has not only been mentioned but has endorsements for appointment by the president as minister to Siam from practically every prominent democrat in the state and some outside. The position was held by his father under Cleveland's administration and it now appears as tho the son would be honored, provided there are not already too many pegs from this state trying to get into the holes allotted to her. Anyhow, A. M. will fit the job to a T, and as tea and cocoa nut juice are the principal if not the only beverage, he is not likely to become excited, call out the militia and separate the twins.

Someone sends in a communication from school district No. 76 in which it alleged that someone entered the school house and stole half a dozen scrim curtains off the windows. The communication is anonymous is considerably at length and contains among other things, some observations which may be strictly justifiable but the Courier cannot publish anonymous communications. If the communication had been signed as an evidence of the good faith of the writer and her willingness to stand by what she stated, the communication might have been printed in full.

The U. D. C. chapter will meet on Monday night Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. H. C. Minter. All members are requested to come and bring their dues and thus save the treasurer the trouble of coming to you, this being the regular time to collect the year's dues.

Mrs. Frederick O. Beach will take the stand at the trial of her husband at Aiken, S. C. this week, and endeavour to clear him of a charge of assault with intent to kill her. Last Feb. about night as she opened the door to let a poodle out a man jumped at her and cut her throat, 19 stitches being required to close the wound. She is very pretty and he very jealous.

Mrs. Theresa Deems of Baltimore, 22 years old said under no circumstances would she permit her husband or anybody else to kiss her, nor would she kiss her 2 year old daughter whom she loved more than her life, all because she don't believe in kissing. She is suing for a divorce. Why Deems didn't beat her to it 3 years ago is more than we can understand.

Mrs. Emma Price and daughters, Stella and Lucile, great grand-daughters of Gen'l Sterling Price will appear in concert in St. Louis tonight. They were here about a year ago and greatly pleased their big audience with instrumental and vocal music.

Henry Teitjens, who had the ball of his foot torn off by the accidental discharge of a gun he had in the wagon with him, will not lose his foot as at first feared.
